California Office of the Attorney General, San Diego, CA: Deputy Attorney General, Correctional Writs and Appeals, 2/2/2009–7/1/2018 (DAG V Level: 4/2016 – 7/1/2018)

- Represent the Governor’s Office and the Board of Parole Hearings in state and federal court litigation regarding life-inmate parole decisions; represent the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation in habeas corpus and civil mandate matters; and represent the Division of Adult Parole Operations regarding challenges to parole conditions, including most recently, challenges to Jessica’s Law residency restrictions.
- Successfully briefed and argued numerous state appellate court cases, resulting in victories on behalf of the Board and the Governor’s Office involving challenges to life-inmate parole decisions; drafted persuasive motions in state and federal trial courts leading to dismissal of parole-related litigation; and negotiated favorable settlements regarding challenges to parole conditions.

- Successfully defended against facial constitutional challenges to Jessica's Law throughout all state court levels and the federal district court level, at which point opposing counsel decided against appeal.
- Experienced in evidentiary hearing process in habeas corpus proceedings, including significant preparatory work for large-scale evidentiary hearing defending as-applied constitutional challenges to Jessica's Law in San Bernardino County. In a separate action, successfully argued dispositive issue at evidentiary hearing, resulting in petitioner's habeas petition being denied.
- Experienced in analyzing complex legal issues of first impression and working with client agencies to resolve legal issues with a broader, more global viewpoint toward litigation prevention.

Morrison & Foerster LLP, San Diego, CA: Senior Litigation Associate, 1/24/2005–1/16/2009

- Successfully represented numerous public companies during internal investigations regarding potential accounting irregularities, leading to a No Action Letter from the SEC or favorable settlement. Substantial experience evaluating the initial parameters of investigation, supervising large teams of attorneys in factual investigation and legal analysis, conducting highly sensitive witness interviews that include board members and senior level executives, preparing final analyses, and making presentations to public auditors, the Board of Directors, and the SEC.
- Integral role in discovering and questioning multi-million-dollar embezzler during internal investigation of large public technology company, leading to criminal prosecution.
- Represented multiple public companies during litigation arising from mergers and acquisitions; participated in due diligence and witness interviews regarding antitrust issues.
- Represented title insurance company during a two-year, large-scale employment litigation matter involving breach of contract and alleged theft of proprietary information. Analyzed employment contracts and non-disclosure agreements, interviewed over 35 employees including senior level executives, defended depositions of named parties to the suit, and prepared briefs related to temporary restraining orders and discovery-related disputes.
- Prepared action plan in response to a multi-million-dollar securities class action litigation matter for international public company and subsidiaries, resulting in favorable outcome.
- Obtained $1 million+ judgment on pro bono representation of child sexual assault victim.

Fish & Richardson P.C., San Diego, CA: Litigation Associate, 4/23/2003–1/21/2005

- Successfully defended large public technology company and public company accounting firm during multiple SEC investigations, including analyzing claims, representing witnesses before the SEC, and coordinating responses to discovery demands by federal agencies and third parties.
- Obtained favorable settlement in case regarding corporate governance dispute among board members at large, privately held Delaware company.

Cooley Godward LLP, San Diego, CA: Litigation Associate, 10/21/2001–4/22/2003

- Participated in complex internal investigation of Delaware corporation regarding potential fiduciary breaches and drafted key sections of internal investigation report.
- Prepared legal memoranda and briefs regarding securities regulations, complex business litigation, employment disputes, trade secrets, and corporate governance.
